

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 By operating a marker key during reproduction from a disk on a DVD player, the address on the disk currently played is registered as a book mark. Upon operating the marker key when a disk is not being played, a still picture of the address registered as a book mark is displayed as a thumbnail image in a thumbnail display region in a marker display region. The DVD player initiates reproduction from a disk starting from the address corresponding to the selected marker No. in response to selection of a marker No. corresponding to a relevant thumbnail image in the marker No. display region by the user.